Three of Funnell and Furlonger's horse drawn carriers vans at Haslemere station c.1910. These vans and horses were kept at Ash Villa, Headley Road from where the carriers business operated from about 1904 until the late 1950s. Unfortunately the original image is in poor condition, the lettering on the middle vans reads 'Godalming Steam Sanitary Laundry', a contract which would have involved collecting laundry from local hotels and taking it to Haslemere station and thence by train to Godalming.
